

input: raster image

→ deep learning model →

output: vector image

